Ichthys workers helping to save lives

A $38,000 donation from Ichthys LNG Project workers at the Manigurr-ma accommodation village in Howard Springs, means St John Ambulance Volunteers are better prepared to save Territorian lives in the event of sudden cardiac arrest.

St John Ambulance's Territory-wide fleet of volunteer vehicles will have their 19 automated external defibrillator units replaced, thanks to the money raised from workers living at the Project's village in Howard Springs.

These First Aid vehicles are used at a large variety of community, social and sporting events all year round and with the updating of the AED units, volunteers now have reliable and current equipment to treat a cardiac arrest prior to an ambulance arriving.

Director of Volunteer First Aid Services, Mark Ferguson said the donation was timely: "It allows us to replace our current ageing units which are no longer serviceable."

"We are extremely grateful for the support of all involved at the Manigurr-ma accommodation village for supporting our hard-working volunteers."

INPEX's Accommodation Project Manager, Steve Greene, said the "Ichthys workers residing at the village were proud to help Territorians with reliable and current equipment to treat a cardiac arrest."

The Defibrillators will be officially handed over at a presentation at 10.30am tomorrow, 3 November at St John Ambulance Headquarters, 50 Dripstone Road, Casuarina.
